Systar & Decillion Group Extend Their Partnership to Deliver Real-Time Business Activity Monitoring for Decillion Group MAPS Customers

ST. CLOUD/SINGAPORE, September 22, 2011 - Systar, (ISIN: FR0000052854-SAR), the leader in Business Activity Monitoring software for the Financial Services Industry, and Decillion Group, the leading systems integrator and SWIFT Service Bureau operator in the Asia-Pacific region, today announced that they have enhanced their partnership to allow Decillion Group's MAPS customers to gain real-time visibility into this platform through Systar's Business Activity Monitoring (BAM) products.

This new agreement will enable Decillion Group to offer its customers Systar's industry-leading BAM product for payments seamlessly integrated into Decillion Group's "Modular Automated Processing System" (MAPS), a financial platform to enhance visibility and control of the transaction workflow. Built on top of Microsoft® BizTalk® Server platform and Microsoft BizTalk Accelerator for SWIFT, MAPS is a SWIFTReady Financial EAI 2011 product that provides pure automation and STP for customers utilizing the SWIFT ISO15022 and ISO20022 messaging. It also provides a SOA-based system that can be customized to fit customers' varying requirements to process financial messages in and out of their organizations and match them with internal business processes using status-driven workflows.

Through the integration of Systar's BAM product for payments into MAPS, customers will gain real-time visibility into this platform's processes, transactions, payments and batches through automated alerts. Systar's customized dashboards enable customers to monitor the platform's performance, measure processing, detect problems before a crisis and anticipate transactions and payments at risk.

"We welcome the opportunity to work with Systar on this initiative and are confident that MAPS customers will gain immediate value from this enhanced platform," said Thomas Lee, Decillion Group's CEO. "With its proven ability to deliver real-time performance monitoring in complex payments environments, Systar was the clear choice for this initiative and we strongly believe in our common success."

"Systar is pleased to extend its partnership with Decillion Group through this product integration and to help deliver additional value to their customers," said Guy Kuster, Systar's CEO. "Decillion Group's wealth of experience in the financial messaging space combined with our expertise in payments monitoring will ultimately provide customers with the real-time information necessary to improve operational performance and mitigate emerging risks."
